

Just a Little of This & That

The Widows are Worried
Golf widows of this district are worried.

With the opening of the Red Hill Country Club and interest taken in the game, wives of many members were more than pleased. Of course, far be it from us to intimate that there may have been husbands who stayed out late nights, before the golf game became quite the thing. But regardless, many wives did not always know where their husbands had been, who they had been with, etc., on many a night.

With the opening of the golf course, the ancient and royal game became the idea and it took so much energy to play golf that Friend Husband retired early, that he might be up with the sun for the morrow's game. Therefore, wife has known where her husband was.

But with many who took up the game when the club opened, golf playing has not resulted in their doing the course in par or even in the early or late forties.

Many weary hours have some of these dear husbands worked for a real score and as the task has commenced to look rather hopeless, it is gradually interfering with what was left of their dispositions following prohibition.

And so the golf widows are endeavoring to solve why their husbands are developing such high-strung nervous dispositions that blow up like a toy balloon without any real occasion for the blow-up.

But old-time golf players as per Jas. Black, John D. Howe, offer solace to the worried ones in stating that every golf player passes through that stage which upsets his disposition, but once he gets over it, he not only makes a better husband, but a much better golf player.

So worry not, Golf Widows. Although you may not have been able to make model men of your husbands—golf will do it.

There are Others

There are errors in newspapers, but the wonder of it is that there aren't more. There is an opportunity for a hundred or more different errors in each line, but few people realize what linotype operators, proof readers and newspaper people in general go up against in every hour of their work. An error crept into a Minnesota newspaper and the editor received a letter from a subscriber regarding it, so in the next edition of the paper Ye Editor wrote as follows:

"We made a mistake in last week's issue of the Sentinel. A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our post-office box that didn't belong to us."

"We called for 98 over the phone and got 198. We asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and when we got home we found that it was No. 60. The train was reported thirty minutes late. We arrived at the depot twenty minutes after train time and the train had gone."

"We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of ten cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We hadn't tasted meat for months. The garage man said that the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned the spark plug and it's run fine ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper."

Just Suppose

Suppose your wife picked up the morning paper and read at length to you how Andy Gump asked his wife to sew a button on his vest and how Andy's wife, Minnie, replied in a most sarcastic vein: "Yes, I've been wearing my fingers off washing, sweeping, ironing, baking, and now a great statesman asks me to sew a button on his vest."

And suppose that a button was off the front of your vest and your wife's reading that about Andy reminded you that you had intended for a day or two to ask your wife to sew that button on.

Did you ask her to sew that button on?

You did NOT.

TWO OF A KIND

"The woman next door is really dreadful, Richards," said the young married woman. "She does nothing but talk the whole day long. I'm sure she can't get any work done."

"Oh!" remarked her husband, "to whom does she talk?"

"Why, to me, of course," was the reply, "over the fence!"

BOY SCOUT FATHER AND SON BANQUET LAST NIGHT PROVES FINE EVENT

Herbert Hall Will Farm During the Summer Months

A. H. Maxwell, former Upland Resident, Speaker of the Evening. Music and Radio Add to Program.

Boy Scouts of Troop No. 1 entertained their fathers at Crowell Hall last night when their mothers served a banquet dinner, the event not only being a father and son banquet, but a farewell to Herbert Hall, their Scoutmaster, who goes back to Iowa for the summer, where he will pitch hay, cultivate corn, thresh grain, milk cows, and do all the other farm-hand work that comes his way.

Elliott Bowman, of the Boy Scout Troop, extended to the fathers a hearty welcome, while J. W. Bryden, in behalf of the fathers present, expressed appreciation at being guests of the troop.

As the mothers served the dinner, a continuous program proceeded, among the features being music by the troop orchestra; instrumental solo by Randall Bryden, which was greeted with a most hearty applause; an encore number proved highly entertaining; radio concert through the courtesy of the Pacific Coast Radio Co.; short speeches were made on Boy Scout Work by Rev. Kent, T. W. Nesbit, Mr. Pochin and Mr. Alford, while Tom Craig gave an interesting talk on butterflies, their habits and the interesting details of how he captures and mounts them.

Speaker of the evening was A. H. Maxwell, who entered Y. M. C. A. work, while a resident of Upland several years ago. Mr. Maxwell recently moved from the north to Los Angeles, where he is now engaged in the same work.

Mr. Maxwell's talk proved a most interesting one and was of value not only to the boys, but to the fathers present, for he brought out many points tending to show that father and son must work out their problems together and become greater pals if they were to make a success of life.

TO FEATURE LOCAL TALENT AT COLONIAL

"The Romance of the Lemon," produced at the packing house of the Upland Lemon Growers' Association, is to be shown at the Colonial Theatre Saturday evening along with the regular show.

Employees of the Upland Lemon Growers' Association are to be guests of Manager Fielding of the Colonial Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, when they are to gather at the Colonial and see themselves in the picture.

"The Romance of the Lemon" was produced under the direction of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, the house of the Upland Lemon Growers' Association being chosen as the most ideal house in which to take the picture.

Friday and Saturday
Marshall Neilan's latest picture, "Minnie," released by Associated First National, will be shown at the Colonial Friday and Saturday.

Matt Moore and Leatrice Joy are featured in the story.

Even the followers of Marshall Neilan pictures will get a surprise in "Minnie," because Matt Moore, for the first time in his career, appears in character. As usual, he does a clever piece of acting, full of wholesome human humor. And Leatrice Joy, who is known for her beauty, has covered up her prettiness and comes forth as a family drudge and she leaves the screen better for her excellent portrayal. Miss Joy and Matt Moore are going to win new laurels with the showing of "Minnie."

They are going to give the whole motion picture world a good hearty laugh.

These two clever screen players are ably supported by George Barnum, Josephine Crowell, Helen Lynch, Raymond Griffith, Dick Wayne, Tom Wilson and George Dromgold.

Frank Urson assisted Neilan in the direction of "Minnie."

SUE TO DETERMINE OWNERSHIP OF FORD

Suit has been filed by Banta & Smith, Ontario Ford dealers, against J. L. Grahame of Upland, for possession of an automobile which is said to belong to them and which Grahame is holding to satisfy a mechanic's lien.

The suit, which will be heard before Judge George R. Crane in May, is the culmination of a complicated series of incidents.

The case was first filed in Judge George R. Holbrook's court, but was transferred to the Upland court.

M. G. Fremming, former proprietor of a service station here, defaulted when property belonging to him was attached for debts, and a public sale of his goods was held.

Grahame, one of his creditors, bid in an automobile which was believed to belong to Fremming, and on which the books showed repairs had been made to the extent of $25. Therefore, Fremming, whether he owned the car or not, had a mechanic's lien on it until the repair bill was paid. So Grahame took over the lien.

Claim Automobile

Some time later the firm of Banta & Smith is said to have appeared on the scene and to have claimed the car. Grahame refused to give it up until the repair bill, amounting to which he was out, was paid.

A short time ago, the car was put up for sale to cover the repair bill and storage charges. Several persons bid, among them being Grahame, bidding the amount he was out, but no one else put up any money, so he was given a constable's bill of sale. Suit for the car by the Ontario firm followed and will be heard in May. Grahame is represented by Attorney A. O. Dillon of Ontario, and Banta & Smith by Attorney Ray Barnett, Los Angeles.

JUDGE LINDSEY AT CHAFFEY UNION HIGH

Judge Ben B. Lindsey, famous juvenile court judge, of Denver, Colo., scheduled to speak for half an hour yesterday before a joint assembly of the Student Bodies of Chaffey High School and Junior College, addressed the students instead for an hour and a half, so vociferous were they in their demands that he continue, and at the close they gave him an ovation lasting for ten minutes.

Judge Lindsey literally held his large audience spellbound with his story of work in the interests of the welfare of children for more than a quarter of a century.

The speaker pointed out that getting the child's viewpoint was the great thing in his line of work, giving sympathy and understanding. He declared that there are no natural criminals, only first-time wrongdoers, who can be corrected and sent straight if properly handled by loving sympathy. Treated as hardened criminals, they can be made such by lack of understanding, he asserted.

Judge Lindsey was introduced by Judge O. N. Hilton of Ontario, formerly widely known attorney of Denver. In opening his remarks, Judge Lindsey declared that Judge Hilton was his best friend and one of the greatest criminal lawyers in the United States.

Judge Lindsey's famous refusal to betray the confidence of a child and subsequent jailing for contempt of court, was one of the many incidents which interested his audience. Chaffey Auditorium was packed to capacity for the address.

NEW BUILDING FOR SOUTH'S GARAGE

Tenth Street is to have another garage, for this week a contract has been entered into by which E. R. Bowman erects at the corner of Tenth Street and Second Avenue a garage building to be occupied by the Veeder South Garage.

As soon as the new garage building is completed it will be moving day about the corner of Tenth and Second, not only for the South Garage, but for the Jay Ross Electric Shop, which is to occupy the building vacated by the South Garage, and owned by J. L. Grahame.

Just when the new building to be occupied by the South Garage will be completed has not been stated, but indications are that it will not be earlier than June 1st.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH IS CONSECRATED

Wednesday last was a red letter day in the history of St. Mark's parish, as it was the consummation of long years of effort and sacrifice by the members of the congregation. On August 29, 1909, a meeting was held to organize a parish of the Episcopal Church in Upland, and the following year the land at the northeast corner of Euclid Avenue and F Street was purchased and a church building reared. It became necessary to borrow a large amount of the money required for land and building, but soon all but the sum of $3,000 was paid off.

Owing to the necessary current expenses, which were large for so small a membership, the mortgage could not be taken care of further than to pay the half-yearly interest.

At the annual parish meeting last year the rector recommended a plan by which he hoped the full debt could be raised this Easter so that the building might be consecrated this St. Mark's Day.

The recommendation was so largely supported that an amount more than sufficient was placed on the altar Easter Day and arrangements completed for the consecration.

The services for the day, Wednesday, April 25, were at 7:30, 9:30 and 10:45. The principal service was the later one. Clergy and laity came from all parts of the diocese and some from the East, as far away as Vermont and New England. The Bishop was met at the door by the members of the vestry and proceeded up the aisle followed by the altar, C. S. Traphagen, in the unavoidable absence of Judge O. N. Hilton, read the Deed of Gift, after which the Rev. Dr. Gooden, Registrar of the Diocese, read the Certificate of Consecration, and the service proceeded as prescribed in the Book of Common Prayer.

This is not a long, but most impressive ceremony and those present felt the solemnity of the occasion.

Then followed the Confirmation Service, when six persons were confirmed and the address by the Bishop to the class was full of sympathetic instruction.

The Communion office followed immediately, and the whole interspersed with hymns and anthems made a service long to be remembered and the large congregation followed it all with sustained and reverent attention.

After service, all visitors were the guests of the parish at a luncheon served at The Sycamores. Eighty-three members and visitors sat down to a beautifully arranged meal, the tables having been decorated for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. McCloskey, who also did the decorating in the church as their donation to the day's festivities. After lunch speeches were made by several of the visiting clergy and laity, all in a happy congratulatory spirit. The speakers were the Revs. Dean Kirkhoffer, Riverside, who spoke for the Deanery of San Bernardino; Mr. Clark of Pomona, for the visiting clergy; Mr. Swan, for the clergy who once served the parish as rectors. The laity were Messrs Huey and James Webster, who spoke for the early members of the parish who have moved away. Father Gushee spoke most kindly for himself and the Ontario parish, and the Right Rev. Bishop Stevens brought the congratulations of the diocese and gave an address full of humor and kindly advice.

No happier gathering will ever be held in Upland than this happy parish celebration, and Vestry, Guild, Choir and Organist each contributed a share to an occasion that will long be remembered as a proof of what faith and united effort can accomplish in a small parish to secure in a short time a result of large importance.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR DUES TO THE UPLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE?

The responses to the letters regarding membership dues in the Upland Chamber of Commerce are coming in steadily, and show a good interest on the part of the members. Those who have been waiting till the first of the month will soon be sending in their cards, and the secretary expects an avalanche of letters on May 1st.

Some have doubtless mislaid the cards, and Secretary E. Fischer states that he will be glad to furnish new cards in any quantity. One letter just received enclosed ten dollars, which stood for three members with a dollar to round out the check. Such surprises are gratefully received at the Chamber of Commerce office.

JUDGE MABON TO HEAR ALFORD TRIAL

Indications today were that Superior Judge J. W. Mahon, of Bakersfield, will be the magistrate selected by Governor Friend William Richardson to preside at the trial of F. E. Alford, former city manager of Ontario, and his alleged accomplice, John E. Huling, jointly charged in 38 grand jury indictments with embezzling $30,000 from the city treasury, when it opens Tuesday in Dept. 1 of the Superior Court.

The matter of selecting a judge to conduct the notorious graft case trial has been before Governor Richardson for the past three weeks, and while nothing definitely is known, it is expected that Judge Frank B. Daley will be ordered to fill the position vacated by Judge Mahon.

Schenk Considered
Both San Bernardino County judges, Benjamin F. Warner, of Ontario, and Judge Daley, of San Bernardino, were disqualified to sit on the case. They have been busy attempting to secure a magistrate for weeks. At one time it was thought that arrangements could be completed to have Judge John W. Schenk, noted jurist of Los Angeles, preside. These plans later collapsed, however.

No official word has been received here from the governor as to who will be chosen, but there was little doubt in the court house today but that Judge Mahon would be ordered here.

Preparations for the prosecution of the case have been going on for weeks in the office of Deputy District Attorney M. O. Hert, who is associated with Special Prosecutor Walter E. Byrne for the state.

Longest Trial Here

The trial will probably be the longest in criminal history of the county, and may possibly set a precedent in the state. Both prosecuting and defense attorneys agree that on the first indictment, unless the unforeseen occurs, the hearing will run for three months.

Reports were heard a week ago that Alford would not go to trial, due to a change in the plans of the defense. When these were published, it worked another shift in arrangements, although it was admitted that negotiations were under way at that time with the district attorney.

SAM BUCKNER AT ROTARY CLUB TODAY

Sam Buckner, famous preacher of Pomona, addressed the Rotary Club of Upland at The Sycamores this noon his theme being "Idealism."

With the enthusiasm, drive and punch which only Sam Buckner possesses, was the idea of idealism in business as well as in every other worth while thing in life, driven home and for thirty minutes members of the Upland Rotary Club enjoyed one of the finest addresses that has been given here in many weeks. In the early days of the local Rotary Club Sam Buckner gave a talk here, and an enthusiastic welcome was extended him today.

Drive Is Closed

The drive for funds for the Boy and Girl Scouts as well as the Y. M. C. A. work here came to a close officially at noon today when the quota was reached by the Rotary Club paying some $45 which the drive lacked.

Upland's quota was $2,400.00.

BOARD PREPARING SCHOOL MANUAL

For the purpose of completing the 1923-24 county school manual, the county board of education met in the offices of Superintendent Miss Ida M. Collins yesterday afternoon to approve the findings of various committees appointed to go into the details of the work.

The new manual will embrace the subjects of grammar, geography, arithmetic, spelling, history, reading, writing and physiology. It is comprehensive or practically all subjects taught in the primary grades of the county.

The committees have been at work on the manual for weeks and the first draft of their report was summarized for the board of education yesterday. A subsequent meeting will probably be held to conclude the work.

TO REFUSE TO PAY COUNTY EMPLOYEES

Immediate test of the validity of the appointment of a number of deputies in county offices loomed yesterday as Vincent Roth, county auditor, started the compilation of a list of county employees whom he will refuse payment for April salary on the May 1 payday.

"I have not determined just who will be refused warrants," said Mr. Roth yesterday. "It is apparent that court decision is necessary, but whether I will select several deputies or all of them regarding whose appointment there may be doubt, I have not as yet determined."

Deputy Nichols May Be On List

Report yesterday had it that Mr. Roth would refuse to issue a warrant to his own chief deputy, Paul W. Nichols of Ontario, accountant employed at a salary of $300 a month when the supervisors determined that it was necessary to have such an expert continually in the employ of the county.

The salary of the chief deputy had been $175 a month, and one of the questions which had recently developed is whether the supervisors had the authority to raise the salary to $300 a month after the elections in November.

Charter Provides For Extra Help

The charter gives the supervisors the right to regulate salaries and number of deputies "from time to time," and it has always been held the supervisors could make adjustments as the necessity arose, whether before or after the election of the heads of the offices.

"I have not determined whether Mr. Nichols' warrant will be one of those held up," said Mr. Roth. "But I am going into the matter right now," and he displayed the copy of a recent supreme court decision, which held that increased salaries for deputies or increased number of deputies was technically an increase in compensation for the head of the office, which is prohibited by the constitution after election.

Charter Valueless If Ruling Sustained

"If the provision of the charter is invalid, then the charter is worth nothing to this county," said District Attorney George H. Johnson, who has held that the constitution has conferred the power for county charters to convey the right to the supervisors to regulate both the number and salaries of deputies.

"If the charter provision is illegal then the charter is practically destroyed in so far as giving this county a right to regulate its own affairs," said the district attorney.

The question has become acute in all counties of the state as the result of a supreme court decision, and the issue to be decided here is whether the framers of the charter exceeded the restrictions of the state constitution.

GIRLS' RESERVE ASK FOR OLD CLOTHES

The Chaffey Girls' Reserve Club asks the co-operation of the people of this community in the collection of old clothing for the students of Central Europe, the Near East and Russia.

The appeal for old clothing comes from the Student Friendship Fund, which has been at work all winter raising money to aid the students of less prosperous countries. The need for money is not now so great as the need of clothing. Work can now be found and many students are now earning enough to pay for their food, but the need for clothing is desperate. Many times they have been forced to remain away from classes and relief kitchens because their clothing was too battered to withstand the weather. On stormy days the attendance is much cut down because the students' clothes are absolutely inadequate.

The clothes most needed are warm things with some wear in them. Most of the things we consider too shabby to wear would be a God-send to the students overseas. Shoes or party dresses are not of enough use to pay for packing and shipping, but any other substantial clothing, whatever the material, would be gratefully received.

Contributions may be left at Atwood's in Upland or Spencer's in Ontario. Anyone having old clothing may call either 338-J Ontario or 135-M Upland, leaving name and address, and it will be called for by the girls.

Collins, H. G. Clements, of Redlands; George H. Jantzen, of Colton; M. E. Hill, of Ontario, and Percy R. Davis, city superintendent of San Bernardino.

POLICE STATION IS NEAR COMPLETION COUNCIL TO HAVE OWN HOME SOON

Moving Day Will Most Likely Be Around June 1st.

City Recorder Crane to Feel at Home in New Location as he Formerly Conducted Jewelry Store There.

June 1st will probably be moving day for City Recorder Crane and the police department in general, for the new police headquarters on Second Avenue and fronting the city jail is being plastered and thirty days more should see the interior finish complete.

The city council is going to have one advantage when the new police headquarters is completed, for the court room is large enough to be used as council room if the council so desires.

When bonds were issued several years ago to build the fire department building and library, the proposed bonds for a city hall were turned down by the voters. The council, having no place to meet, decided to meet in the basement of the Library Building. But the Carnegie Foundation management does not like the idea and each year the council usually receives notice to vacate, and each time the council replies that as soon as the new city hall is complete they will vacate.

With the completion of police headquarters the council will have a place to move to if Carnegie objects to the city occupying the basement of the library.

Will Feel at Home

City Recorder Crane is going to feel perfectly at home in the new building, for it is located on his old stamping ground. That is, before the big fire, which swept away all the buildings between the Riggs Pool Hall and The Upland News office, Judge Crane was the city's one jeweler, and the building stood where the new police headquarters is to be located. Here Judge Crane for many years looked after all the unruly watches and clocks of this entire territory.

REYNOLDS-HARNISH TO OPEN MAY 5TH

Present indications are that Saturday, May 5th, will be the opening date of the new Reynolds-Harnish Dry Goods Company in the Ruedy Block on Ninth Street.

For several weeks both W. C. Reynolds and Miss Lillian Harnish, the members of the firm, have been decidedly busy buying goods and superintending the redecorating of the new store, which they confidently expect will be ready to open by Saturday, May 5th.

W. C. Reynolds came to Upland with the E. A. Bowen Company 23 years ago, and established the first dry goods and men's wear store ever established here. Through the coming of the Bowen Company the original Odd Fellows' building was built, the lodge occupying the second story. Within a few years the Bowen Company outgrew the Odd Fellows' building and Chas. Ruedy erected the company a building in which the greater Bowen store was established, and later became the J. J. Atwood Company when E. A. Bowen retired from business. The Odd Fellows' Block was leased by the Mehl Hardware Company when the Bowen Company vacated.

The Reynolds-Harnish Dry Goods Company will add another attractive business house to Upland's fast-growing business district, and the opening of the new store is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest by shoppers of this entire district.

SMALL CAUSE FOR WORRY

Buddy was up before the disability board. The pompous alienist was asking him a long string of questions to determine his mental condition and buddy was rapidly getting disgusted. "Quick," shouted the celebrated doc, "tell me this: How many legs has a lobster?" Buddy looked at him crushingly before replying, "For the lava Mike," he said, "is that all you got to worry about?"—American Legion Weekly.

Some day a hold-up gang will strike a new note in crime by escaping in a "low-powered car."

Vacation Land Beckons

JUST at the moment when father is meditating his prospective bank balance, while mother and the children discuss eagerly vacation possibilities, the Secretary of the Interior announces the formal opening of the 19 parks owned by the people. The mere review of their names is enough to bring spring fever to its crisis, while meditation on the possibilities contained in those wonderlands of nature is sufficient to make any man ask himself whether Europe is worth the sea-sickness, to say nothing of the expense.

At least 1,500,000 persons are expected at the parks this year—and these are quite distinct from the national forest reserves. It is a substantial fact that each year finds an increasing number of Americans who discover that nowhere in all the world are there such beauties in such diversity as in their own homeland.

Seven of these parks, including the Grand Canyon, the Yosemite and Lafayette Park in Maine, are open all the year. Most of the other well-known national parks are here in the West. In these great parks the golden west still lives and, by popular decree, will live forever.

Paradise Valley, with its flowers blooming amid the snow; the gorgeous colors of Colorado and Arizona, the amazing grandeur of Glacier Park in Montana and Yellowstone Park, these offer something to the American he cannot surpass elsewhere. And they are his own property, as are the great forest reserves, such as the unpeopled Olympics or the beautiful ranges of the East.

And the vacation not so far off, at that!

Some Road Matters

DESPITE an impression to the contrary, the old state highway commission did not complete any survey for the Mecca to Blythe road. A partial survey was made for the Butterfield Trail route but never completed. The latest movement is to seek to have the route shunted to Niland, which is looked upon by most Riverside county people as a violation of the designation for the road in the $40,000,000 bond issue as Mecca and Blythe.

Commissioner Edwards of Orange county believes the highway should be built over the most feasible route between the two towns as may be developed by survey. On the face of it he is inclined to support the Butterfield Trail route.

An engineer of the Automobile Club of Southern California is at this time also making a survey of the routes and there is a possibility that the club will overcome its long apathy in the matter and express itself.

Considerable feeling has been developed in Southern California that out of all the highway funds spent in the state since the time of bond issues the south has not had its proper proportion and that southern organizations, including supervisors and auto club men are proposing to seek to have the recognition for Southern California projects that they deserve.

Dancing Made Hideous

MEDICAL specialists say that ever since the World War there has been an unusually large number of nervously unbalanced persons who are especially susceptible to suggestion. Perhaps this accounts for the recent dancing mania.

A Texas girl dances, continuously for 27 hours. Then a New York girl makes it 50 hours. This was too much for a Cleveland girl, who entered the free-for-all and danced for 52 hours. Texans then ran the record up to various points, from 70 to 90 hours, some New Yorkers danced all over New Jersey and Connecticut to avoid the officers, and a Washington couple set an absolutely new figure for two dancers at something over 109 hours. Now before this gets into print, perhaps somebody else will completely distance that record.

Where is this senseless competition to stop? There are contests of strength and endurance which arouse general admiration, but this long distance dancing is not one of them. Dancing is admired for its grace and beauty. If it is not artistic it is nothing. It would be as sensible to have a contest to see who could sing longest without getting hoarse.

Dancing used to be an art, then it developed into a scandal, and now it has become a competitive sport.

Waste No Water

WATER will have to be judiciously applied this summer to avert a shortage later when it is especially required—in August and September. The average rainfall in Southern California—referring to the district as a whole—has not been lower since 1900. In many districts it is about one-third what it was last season at the corresponding date.

The encouraging feature of the situation, however, lies in the fact that due to the generous rains of last year, there is in the underground storage provided by nature, more water than is ordinarily to be found at this period.

While no actual drought threatens, it will be exceedingly wise not to waste water. Every drop will be required in August and September. By this it is not meant that necessary irrigation should be passed by. There is a difference between applying water carefully when the soil test tube shows that it is required and wasteful application in carelessly prepared ditches.—Citrograph.

Guide to Fairyland

JUST before Sir Walter Scott died he was working upon a special edition of the Waverley novels, with notes and comments on the origin and development of all his principal characters and scenes.

The actual volumes in which he made his notes and wrote out his prefaces have been bought by an American and are now on the way to this country.

To a good many people the perusal of these volumes would give as keen a pleasure as literature has to offer. They would provide a tour through a Scotch fairyland, personally conducted by the Wizard of the North.

Jeanie Deans on her journey to London to see the queen, Diana Vernon suddenly appearing to rescue young Frank Osbaldistone, Balfour of Burchleigh dashed to death in the chasm before his cave, Guy Mannering in the Gypsy's hut—these we know; but to be presented to them one by one by their creator, to walk behind them arm-in-arm with the wonderful old gentleman who had breathed life into their bodies, and listen to his talk of their creation, to find out perhaps "what became of them afterward," would be as near to pure romance as most of us are likely to get in this too realistic world.

We are glad they are coming to America. We have a lot of fine fellows writing novels these days, but few of them seem likely to outlast Walter Scott in the hearts of readers; and even the bare knowledge that his "Magnum Opus", or what he meant to be his "Magnum Opus", is in this country may surprise some of our too casual tale-tellers to the same sort of solid study and lift them nearer to the level of the sort of human sympathy that combined to make him the great romancer he was.—L. A. Examiner.

FAMILIAR POEMS

MY SHIP O' DREAMS

When my ship o' dreams went sailing away
On a cloudless morning in life's bright May,
She carried a cargo, length and beam,
Of every kind of a beautiful dream;
There were rainbow dreams of fame and power,
And golden dreams of a princely dower;
I watched her sails till they dipped from view,
And prayed that my dreams might all come true.
But one little dream was so dear to me
I dared not trust its fate on the sea;
In my heart of hearts I hid it away,
And it nestled there, content to stay.

On the shore I have waited, many a day,
Since that glorious morning in life's bright May,
But the incoming tide only brings to my feet
Wrecks of my youthful dreams so sweet;
For my ship o' dreams soon came to grief,
And her cargo went down on a storm-swept reef!
Naught shall I know of fame and power,
Nor ever be mine a princely dower—
But the one little dream that I kept apart,
Has budded and bloomed in the heart of my heart.
Has blossomed and blossomed—my treasure trove—
And through it I found life's crown—true love!
—Mary Hester McCoy.

THE TRAVELER

What matter that his crippled feet,
About his room scarce carry him,
His spirit finds adventures meet
In Foz, Fashoda, Suakin.

How can his world seem small and bare,
When his brown eyes, so kind yet keen,
May welcome friends from here and there,
And see in them what they have seen?

When Summer seethes in his confines,
He dreams of woodlands cool and dim;
He strolls in Dante's haunts, the lanes
Of San Vito sing to him.

And yet at times, when hours creep by,
Measured by couch and crutch and chair,
His cloistered body seems to cry
For the free world of Otherwhere.

Ah! some day, when he shall have drawn
The final, ineffectual breath,
He will set out across the dawn
On that great journey men call death.
—Robert Gilbert Welsh

CARMEL IN WINTER

Under the morning's rose
The Santa Lucia crests are crowned
With snows,
And well I know how white the narrow way
Ascends the canyon of the San Jose.

Still in their darkling green
The cypresses upon Point Lobos lean,
And all the wide Pacific wastes unfold
To the horizon their deep blue and gold.

While here amid the flowers
Glide by like rosy beads the day's fair hours;
The snacious purple night will come too soon
Despite the marvel of the stars and moon.
—Clinton Scollard, in N. Y. Herald.

ODDS and ENDS

AH! A GENTLEMAN

Some men grow a beard to decorate their faces, others try to modify where they cannot decorate. In any case, the man is rash who removes his facial adornment after it has become familiar to his friends. One such man called upon his aunt after parting with his beard. The maid did not recognize him and plainly doubted his word, so he gave her his card as a warranty. His aunt received him with amusement.

"You're sure you know me?" he asked. "Mary didn't."
"No," said the aunt, mirthfully. "She said there was a strange man who looked like a gentleman, but he had one of your cards."—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

A HOT SHOT

This final echo of the last football season comes to us. An irate gridiron fan who had watched his home team go down to defeat stopped the referee as he was leaving the field. "Where's your dog?" he demanded.

"Dog?" ejaculated the referee. "I have no dog."
"Well," said the grouchy one, "you're the first blind man I ever saw who didn't have a dog."—Atlanta Constitution.

WHAT REVIEWS ARE FOR

"Such a charming book!" said the hostess. "The characters are so exquisitely drawn; the psychology of the heroine simply delicious, and there's a philosophy running through it, a wonderful revelation of the human soul!" "When did you read it?" asked a guest. "Oh, I haven't read it yet, but I've read every review of it," replied the lady, easily. —Santa Barbara News.

The proof of this I have shown by the hundreds in Los Angeles and neighboring places who are today FREE FROM RUPTURE and have no need of trusses or bandages of any kind. Sufferers will understand that RUPTURE cannot be cured by mail or with a guarantee—such promises are made only to blind and humbug the sufferers for the time being, but are not able to show permanent cures. When patients come to my office, I give them names and address of those CURED OF RUPTURE by me, and if they wish they can go and speak personally and convince themselves before commencing my treatment, as to the work I have done, and am still doing. "JUST CUCAMONGA" SCORES KNOCK-OUT

The First National Bank of Cucamonga officials put on the program at the recent April meeting of the San Bernardino County Bankers' Association at the Sycamores. Those present declared it was one of the most enjoyable evenings the association ever had. One of the hits of the evening was an address by G. P. McCorkle, cashier of the First National bank of Cucamonga, entitled "Just Cucamonga."

JUST CUCAMONGA:
Such a subject: How on the face of the earth could any living mortal talk fifteen minutes about a place as Cues? No show; No chamber of commerce; No dance hall; No saloon; No picture show; No bootlegger. How many of you ever heard of it? No, we will not ask you to express your ignorance of it by halloo here tonight.

It is a fact that 97 people out of 100 in Los Angeles will ask you what part of Mexico that place is located in and is it safe to go back and is any check good and is it there yet?

IN FOREIGN CLIME
Not many days ago a very intelligent telegraph operator in the city of Ontario, who was requested to send a message, did not know there was a Cucamonga and was charged a foreign rate. Can you beat it?

The very prominent speakers who delight this convention month after month know even less than telegraph operators know. How often, oh, how often have you listened to them puff to the skies Redlands, San Bernardino, Colton, Fontana, Etiwanda, Upland, Ontario, Chino, Yorba Linda and Watts.

Dr. Sweeney also did it. THIS IS REAL NEWS
Should a dog bite a man, this would not be news. Should a woman bite a dog, the Los Angeles Examiner would consider it news and allow it a three inch headline entire front page.

When an invitation is extended to this honorable Bankers' Association by Redlands, San Bernardino, Colton, Rialto, Fontana, Etiwanda, Upland, Ontario, Chino, Yorba Linda or Watts, it is not news, but when that invitation is given by Cucamonga, then it becomes real news.

Likewise moreover, also, by the skillfully applied influence of a clever press agent, when this association has enjoyed the hospitality of the Sycamores, they have been under the impression that they are in Upland or Ontario. As a matter of fact the Sycamores stands in the exterior boundaries of the Commonwealth of Cucamonga, built by Cucamonga contractors, financed by Cucamonga money, and owned by Cucamonga capitalists.

BEST PLACE TO LIVE
Many of you people might not believe that fifty millions of years ago, according to tradition, when the world was young and the stars were singing together in glory and she was a tadpole and I was a frog, the birds of the universe held a great convention and agreed to fly until they found the best place to live.

At the close of the 100th day they passed over an exceedingly high mountain and rested at its base. In the morning when the sun was rising, they seemed to all know the journey had ended. They had found it. They named it Cucamonga, the Place of Many Waters.

Cucamonga: About which it since has been written: The wind bloweth where it listeth and thou hearest the sound thereof, etc., and again: "And they turned water into wine in a single night."

Cucamonga, that land where it is one bright summer always and storms do never come.

IN GREAT NUMBERS
Delighted at their new home, a great feast was prepared to which the birds invited the animals of the forest and beasts of the field, who attended in great numbers.

Hon. Opedilloc was called to the chair. When the Skeesix had expanded himself all about how it feels to be an exceptional bank examiner, the Pip-So We had related Some of His Impressions as he came through the Jungles of The New Found Land; the Ba-Zum-Pas, who had spent his life in teaching the young idea how to shoot, had given instructions "How to Succeed," they sat down to eat.

Trouble began brewing. Animals resented the invasion by the birds. Animals did not relish any dinner with only nuts and berries, so they changed the Bill-of-Fare and made bird-pies by the thousands. The fortunate few able to escape found refuge on Cucamonga Peak. When order was restored a proper government was restored and the Democratic Party was organized. The Cro-Zo-Kas wanted to know how the assembly proposed to vote.

HOW THEY VOTED
Brother Coon spoke thus: "Brethren of the forest, I make a motion we cast our ballots by raising our tails."

Ero, "Possum objected, and said: "My countrymen, by no means do I find correct this method of procedure; everybody knows. Ero. Coon has a wonderful tail with stripes and streaks all around."

"All of you know, too, that the Possum's tail is a disgrace to civilization; that it is rusty and ugly and looks like a file."

Besides, the rabbit is disgraced. Moreover, my brethren, the Billy Goat has already voted, and has voted on both sides of the question."

During these deliberations, the Free State of Cucamonga was divided into parcels. The Bearilla took the eastern mesa and called it Redlands. A wise selection.

The Opedilloc took his and called it San Bernardino. Others in order took theirs and called 'em Rialto, Colton, Fontana, Etiwanda, Upland, Ontario, Yorba Linda and Watts.

STORK A WISE BIRD
A bit of excitement arose when it was announced that a doctor was needed. Dr. Stork was the only physician in Cucamonga and he was with the birds in the mountains.

By and by, they were able to signal to him and agreed not to put him in the pie. He came. When his patients were reported doing nicely, he requested a consultation with the rulers which was granted.

When they had circled about him he burned some mysterious powders on a rock and in a moment had all of 'em asleep. Taking a sharp Dr. Stork knife he split the tongue of each four-legged fellow whispering to each:

"None of you shall ever again be permitted to pronounce the word Cucamonga, nor your descendants, until April 19, 1923, after the sun goes down."

How foolish all this may sound to a few of us here tonight but come to think of it how many of us have ever heard the name in this honorable convention?

ALWAYS THE OTHER TOWN
Always you hear the speakers justly magnify Redlands, San Bernardino, Colton, Fontana, Etiwanda, Upland, Ontario, Chino, Yorba Linda, Watts, but never Cucamonga.

Not more than two nights ago, with spontaneous emotion, the dearly beloved and ever faithful Dr. Sweeney sang into your ears this lullaby:

"My friends, allow me to remind you the next meeting will be held in Redlands, and listen, it is not a step further to Redlands from San Bernardino, Colton, Riverside, Fontana, Etiwanda, Upland, Ontario, Chino, Yorba Linda and Watts, than it is to Watts, Yorba Linda, Chino, Upland, Ontario, Etiwanda, Fontana, Rialto, Colton, San Bernardino from Redlands."

Can you beat it?
Do not understand me to say we in Cucamonga are birds. But is it not singular that the rule appears to omit the name Cucamonga? Do we not furnish the water you drink?

IS NOW MENTIONED
Do we not irrigate your trees and vines from Cucamonga Peak Springs? Did not Cucamonga give you the land upon which to stand your happy homes? Also the grape juice?

But the oracle: forbidding the name to be expressed until the 19th day of April 1923, is this night dissipated. Try it. If you feel like swearing, Cucamonga will be found a wonderfully strong substitute. Cucamongabellendmation.

If you are in a prayerful mood: Cucamonga, Cucamonga: How oft would I have gathered you together, even as a hen doth gather her brood.

If you feel like singing, try this on your piano: Cucamonga, Cucamonga, etc., to the tune of Bula Bula, and always when you begin to call the roll of neighborhood towns, be pleased to remember that Cucamonga is one of the bunch and that the conditions stipulated in that Dr. Stork Oracle have been dissolved.

IS ABLY MANAGED
The First National Bank with $25,000 capital and $25,000 surplus is one of the few Roll of Honor banks in the U. S. A. It has the support of this territory and is ably managed by the officers and directors, to-wit:

Rineald, W. J. Democrat, successful farmer, peaches, oranges, and watermelons. Drives a Buick and is the president of the Cucamonga Water company, one of the best in the State of California.

F. A. Lucas, Sr. Member of the Lucas Company, Ltd., and of the Lucas Ranching company, which own a 1000 acres of the best land in the colony and highly improved. Sold:

3030 tons of grapes.
220 tons of peaches.
50 tons of raisins dried in 1922.

Motisinger, Chas. B. Oranges, lemons. Made all his money here in the Cucamonga community. Is a good farmer and is president of the Cucamonga Citrus Fruit Growers' association, and president of the Cucamonga Investment company.

Parkin, L. R. Newest member of the bank and is vice-president. Is making good. Building a swell home on Helms avenue. Will have the floor in a home for Impressions.

OFFICERS OF BANK
Thomas, H. H. President of the Cucamonga Vintage company where thousands of gallons of real wine are stored. Mr. Thomas owns 2200 acres of land in a big state of cultivation; 35 acres in bearing lemons and oranges; the remainder in grapes, peaches, apricots; is the largest individual land owner in the state and is appreciated in his own community.

Wentworth, H. C. President of the bank. Honest, capable, energetic, safe, conservative, accommodating. Knows everybody; lately has built a dandy new home on the Kings Highway and lives there with his own wife.

Williams, J. H. Vice President of the Cucamonga Building and Loan association. A successful grower of grapes, oranges, peaches and apricots. Has a wide acquaintance and is a valuable member of any committee for the appraisal of land values.

McCorkle (widow). A wonderful woman. A very wonderful woman. Single handed and alone she has reared four husky youngsters. Is still young and a good looking. Should have been president of some railroad.

There is gladness in her gladness
When she's glad;
There is sadness in her sadness
When she's sad;
But the gladness of her gladness
And the sadness of her sadness
Is nothing to her madness when she's mad.

WHAT CUCAMONGA DOES
Cucamonga is bounded by Alta Loma a mile to the north of us, is considered as much a part of the Cucamonga district and we are working together for the upbuilding of the community.

Alta Loma in 1922, after the freeze, shipped 60 carloads of oranges and 57 carloads of lemons. This is considered 100 carloads below normal. They have three packing houses, the P. E. and Harry Roberts, W. E. Morse and A. L. Swift.

Cucamonga Citrus Growers' Association did 85 cars the season after the freeze and will do this year 200 cars, navel, and 50 cars valencias. The 85 cars brought $154,771.00.

Golden State Canneries did 2,976,000 cans last season; 124,000 cases or 124 carloads of fruit.

Santa Fe shipped 915 cars of grapes; trucks did 147 cars of oranges. Cucamonga Santa Fe station, of the 25 best offices in the Los Angeles division, including San Bernardino and all of 'em, ranked eighth in point of receipts and registers the lowest proportion of expenses. All this in addition to great shipments from Gualshi, the south end of our colony, which gives us the largest vineyard in the world.

AND PLEASURES, TOO
Finally:
All this is business.
We also like fun, excitement and recreation.

The Red Hill Country Club is the place where the friends of all the communities assemble for pleasure.

Golf, horseback, swimming, skating, tennis, gymnasium, in fact all fashions of out-of-doors entertainment and a wonderfully well equipped club house are some of the features in process of construction.

The Red Hill Country club has 254 members and they are coming into the organization by the bunch. It is to close the books when 300 members are enrolled. Cucamonga provided the grounds and is doing its bit in joining and boosting.

Cucamonga does not hope to have four-story buildings for business blocks, but we do believe there is no greater place for wonderful, happy homes, homes that will be self-sustaining, than Cucamonga. JUST CUCAMONGA.

CUCAMONGA
W. A. Lucas Laid to Rest
Very impressive were the last sad rites spoken for William Alexander Lucas, former well-known Cucamongan, who last Sunday morning, at the early age of 49, passed away so suddenly into the Great Beyond at his home on Hayes Avenue, Los Angeles. Services were held Tuesday afternoon at Cresce's Chapel on Pasadena Avenue. Wonderful in their abundance and beauty were the floral offerings, silent tribute of the esteem in which the deceased was held. Pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, where both Mr. and Mrs. Lucas were prominent in the work of church and Sunday school, officiated. "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me" were beautifully rendered by soloists from the Presbyterian Church. Committal services at the grave in Rosedale Cemetery were in charge of the Masonic Lodge of Los Angeles, of which the deceased was a member.

Attending the services from Cucamonga were: Mrs. Chas. N. Fiedler, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Davenport, Mrs. A. C. Beattie and daughters, Margaret and Louise, and from Upland, Misses Julia and Mabel Beattie.

ONTARIO

Prominent Rancher Passes

Frank A. Ross, prominent Ontario rancher and for the past 15 years active in the affairs of the city died late Tuesday night at his home, 303 West I street.

Some months ago, Mr. Ross suffered a paralytic stroke, from which he never fully recovered. Had he lived until May 4th, he would have been 80 years of age. He came here from Blue Earth, Minn., in 1908.

Mr. Ross was extremely interested in the affairs of the day and during the world war took an active part in the Liberty Bond and Red Cross campaign. He was a prominent member of St. Mark's Episcopal church, of Upland, and for a number of years was an officer of the organization.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Martha Dean Ross, he is survived by two sons, Harry H. Ross of Massillon, Ohio, and C. F. Ross of San Francisco. A sister, Mrs. J. K. Goff, resides at Long Beach, and a brother, W. E. C. Ross, makes his home in Minnesota.

Funeral services are to be held from Draper's chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock with Dr. Bert Foster, pastor of St. Mark's officiating. The burial rites will be in charge of the Ontario Masonic Lodge of which Mr. Ross was a member and interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Mrs. Fallis President

Mrs. John J. Fallis was Tuesday afternoon elected president of the Current Events Club, the largest women's organization in Ontario, when members of the body met in annual session at their club house in West B street.

Mrs. Geoffrey J. Fleming, present head of the club, was elected first vice-president; Mrs. Benjamin F. Warner, second vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Fiddes, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles L. Lamplin, corresponding secretary and Mrs. F. J. Bentley, treasurer. These officers will be formally installed at the meeting of the club on May 22. The remainder of the officers, who are appointive and the various standing committees for the ensuing year will be named by Mrs. Fallis at a later date.

Mrs. Warner reported on plans for the annual meeting of the San Bernardino County Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in San Bernardino, May 1, and gave the report of the committee on the Monte Vista Home for Aged Women. Ontario clubs are to furnish one double room in the home.

Judge Benjamin F. Warner was the speaker of the afternoon and delivered an intensely interesting and instructive address on "Juvenile Delinquency." Contributing to the musical program was Mrs. Esther Brown Moran, soprano, who was heard in two solos.

Three-Fourths Jury Favored

Members of the board of directors of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce were on record today as unanimously favoring a bill now before the State Legislature to establish a three-fourths' verdict in jury cases in the courts, civil and criminal, where the death penalty is not involved, and Secretary B. W. Spencer was instructed to telegraph Assemblyman Isaac Jones at Sacramento, urging his support of the measure.

The matter came up for discussion at the regular meeting of the directors. Benton Ballou moved the resolution endorsing the bill as a step in the right direction in a campaign to reduce crime and it was seconded by Welles T. Ross.

Tour Yet Uncertain

That President Harding's trip to the coast is as yet largely a matter of conjecture, was indicated in a letter just received by B. W. Spencer, secretary of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, from George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the President, which states that as yet the Chief Executive has made no arrangements in connection with such a trip.

The letter from the White House was in reply to a telegram from the Ontario Chamber urging that President Harding and his party detain in Ontario, enjoy a round of golf on the Red Hill Country Club course, and then continue from Ontario to Los Angeles by motor car. It follows:

"I have had pleasure in bringing to the attention of the President your telegram of yesterday and he is deeply appreciative of the invitation which you extend to him. He will be glad to keep your wishes in mind should he find it possible to visit the Pacific Coast. As yet he has made no arrangements in connection with such a trip."

SOCIETY

DINNER DANCE AT THE SYCAMORES—
The Entertainment Committee of the Red Hill Country Club reports that the acceptances and reservations are coming in so rapidly as to indicate the capacity of The Sycamores will be tested at the next dinner dance, to be held Tuesday evening, May 8th.

The committee consists of Mrs. Welles Thompson Ross, Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe, Dr. W. H. Craig, Jr., Mrs. Harold Latimer and Mr. C. E. Grier. It will be their endeavor to make this party one of outstanding interest in the special features, and probably the very nicest party that the Country Club has yet held.

An excellent orchestra of seven pieces has been engaged and the decorative features will surpass those heretofore, while, of course, the special dinner prepared by Mr. Jack Baldwin of The Sycamores, will leave nothing to be desired.

It is the intention of the club that this and succeeding parties will be limited to the club members and their immediate families residing with them, non-resident actual house guests and ladies accompanying single members. This rule is deemed advisable by reason of the necessity of avoiding overcrowding as well as a help to the club in pointing out the necessity of joining the club if one desires to be in the lead of some social affairs.

At a meeting of the directors last night the following new members were voted in: Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Brown of Pomona, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Meriwether, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Volk, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Byron Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Northcott.

Grahame, Mrs. Harold C. Moore, Mrs. Paul Daggs, Mrs. John Craig, Mrs. Harleigh C. Brown, Mrs. Mehl, Mrs. Patrick H. McQuillan, Mrs. Paul Bodenhamer, Mrs. Owen E. Atwood, Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, Mrs. Reid B. Bordwell, Mrs. Paul Adams, Mrs. Glenn M. Atwood, Mrs. Henderson.

The club meets again in two weeks, when Mrs. Grahame will act as hostess.

urer; Miss Mary Tweed, auditor; Mrs. V. H. Wilson, trustee.

Several matters of business came up before the club members, among which was the presentation of an amendment to raise the dues to $5 per annum, the initiation fee to remain the same. It was also planned to change the days of meeting back to the second and fourth Tuesdays in every month.

The program for next year's club work was discussed, and it was decided to have an out-of-town speaker once a month, the alternate meeting to be in charge of the Study Section.

Mrs. Tuttle will leave next week for Eureka to attend the state meeting of the California Federation of Woman's Clubs, and Mrs. Eckerman was appointed delegate to the convention.

At the reception next Tuesday for the Monte Vista Home Mrs. Earl Hawthorne, present head of the club, and Mrs. R. C. Norton will be in the receiving line, while Mrs. F. H. Manker will pour tea.

LADIES' AID AND MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEET TUESDAY—

Next Tuesday there will be a combined meeting of two societies of the Presbyterian Church, the Ladies' Aid and the Missionary Society both holding their regular meeting at two-thirty in the afternoon.

At one o'clock there will be a luncheon for the women of the congregation at the church. Each one is asked to bring sandwiches, and coffee will be served by a committee in charge. Every member of the congregation is very cordially invited to come to this luncheon, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

Those in charge of the social hour are: Mrs. Reid B. Bordwell, Mrs. Earl W. Paul, Mrs. George B. West, Mrs. N. G. Pehl, and Miss Seager.

SAN ANTONIO CHAPTER D.A.R. TO MEET IN ONTARIO—

Members of the San Antonio Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, will meet next Monday afternoon at two-thirty at the home of Mrs. Jacob Jesson, 320 West Emporia Avenue, Ontario.

Miss Aurelia Harwood will give an address on "Forestation and Fire Protection," and the usual routine business will be attended to.

ANNUAL JOLLY-UP OF STUDY SECTION—

The annual jolly-up of the Study Section of the Upland Woman's Club will be held at the Mission Inn, Riverside, next Wednesday, May 2nd. All members of the Woman's Club are invited. Ladies intending to go will please notify some member of the committee before Tuesday, May 1st. Those who can give transportation will kindly do so. The meeting place is at the Upland Library at 9 o'clock sharp.

CLUBS MAKE COMFORTS FOR MONTE VISTA HOME—

Members of the Upland Woman's Club were guests last night of the Business and Professional Woman's Club in the Club Centre, the two organizations joining in an evening of amusement and work, tying knots in quilts for the Aged Women's Home, which will be formally opened on May 1st, under the direction of Mrs. W. Tuttle and Mrs. Mary Eckerman. While several worked on the knots, silhouettes were taken of their profiles, and much fun caused by the inability of each one to recognize her own features.

The social committee, with Mrs. H. Anderson, chairman, served refreshments at the end of the evening's work, and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed. Thirty members of the two clubs were present.

NEW OFFICERS FOR WOMAN'S CLUB—

At the regular meeting of the Upland Woman's Club held last Wednesday in the club centre, the following were elected to hold office for the year 1923-24: Mrs. William H. Tuttle, president; Mrs. Mary Eckerman, vice-president; Mrs. Floyd Atwood, recording secretary; Miss Mina Ruesink, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William S. Avery, treas-

MR. AND MRS. EARL RIGGS ENTERTAIN—

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riggs were hosts last Sunday at their home on West Seventh Street to a number of guests from San Bernardino, who motored over early in the afternoon and enjoyed several pleasant affairs before the serving of a delicious dinner.

A rich creamy yellow color scheme was used in table decorations, and a basket of yellow rose buds with their own glossy leaves made a most attractive centerpiece. At each cover was a dainty nut basket filled with salted almonds, and adorned with tulle bows on the handle. The delightful effect was further enhanced by the yellow shade being carried out in the menu, cocktails, salads and ice cream all being of a golden color.

Later in the evening everyone made up a motor party to Los Angeles, accompanying one of the guests, Kenneth Boyer, brother of the hostess, to his home in that city.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Riggs were Miss Ethel Sherlock, Miss Elsie Sherlock, Miss Dorothy Boyer, Miss Leone Carey, Kenneth Boyer, Carl Riggs, Wilfred Boyer, George Merkel, Kenneth Schnurr, and the hosts' three children, Geraldine, Virginia and Parke Riggs.

SCOUT GIRLS HAVE UNIQUE PARTY—

Girls of Mrs. Caroline Weirich's scout troop gave a very original party yesterday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boulton, 406 Euclid Avenue, Miss Elizabeth Boulton and Miss Mildred Bane acting as hostesses to the seventeen scouts able to be present.

The affair was a circus, everything from games to refreshments and favors depicting an old-fashioned circus show. It was remarkably well staged, and the costumes deserve special mention as everyone entered into the spirit of the thing and took great care to have appropriate gowns. The prize for the best costume was awarded Miss Irene Churchill, who wore a rope dress of a native Hawaiian.

In the midst of the fun a Turkish Lady appeared to enjoy the rest of the evening with the gaily costumed crowd. She was Miss Clara Bissell, head of the Girl Scouts of the Chaffey district, who spent some months in Turkey with the Y. W. C. A., and not only had the native costume complete in every detail, but all the mannerisms of a genuine Turkish lady.

Assisting the two hostesses were Mrs. Weirich, leader, and Miss Othella Toomey, lieutenant of the troop.

SURPRISE SHOWER AND BIRTHDAY PARTY—

Mrs. Frank L. Woods (Miss Helen Barret) was hostess at her home on East Ninth Street last Wednesday evening, when she invited several of her fellow teachers in the Ontario Grammar School to help celebrate her birthday and also that of another faculty member, Miss Helen Seay, whose anniversary fell on the same date.

The evening was spent in playing "500" and in seeing the pretty home and wedding gifts of the hostess, whose marriage to Frank Woods was an event of the Easter holidays.

The guests showered Mrs. Woods and Miss Seay with a number of gifts, some useful, some artistic, and others of a humorous nature, which caused much amusement.

Towards the close of the evening Mrs. Woods served a delicious supper to her guests, who were: Mrs. Daga Leeke, Miss Nellie Cook, Miss Hazel Durstin, Miss Clare Rapp, Miss Kathleen Leahy, Miss Alma Messing, Miss Vera Galbraith, Miss Clara Musch, Miss Helen Seay.

EVENING BRIDGE CLUB MEETS—

Mrs. Everett H. Fuller was hostess to the members of her evening bridge club last Tuesday night at her home, 741 Euclid Avenue, when the regular meeting was held.

Tables were placed for sixteen players and, following a very jolly time at auction, gifts were awarded Mrs. Ernest C. Mehl for high score, and Mrs. R. H. Henderson for low tally.

Supper was served at the close of the game to the members, Mrs. F. K. Nichols, Mrs. S. Rowe, Mrs. J. L.

The two families were old friends and neighbors in St. Cloud several years ago.

Mrs. C. Van Crom, of Los Angeles, a former resident of Upland, spent a couple of days here early this week, visiting old friends and looking after property interests. Dr. Van Crom, who practiced dentistry in Upland for some years, is now connected with the Children's Dental Clinic in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter, who have been staying at the Tioga Apartments, have rented the Hall house on Third Avenue while its owners are in the east.

Floyd Renfro and friends went out for a ride and having nothing else to do broke bottles on Upland's streets. Renfro was hailed before Judge Crane, and although he said he didn't actually throw the bottles, he was with the boys that did it, so he pleaded guilty and will endeavor to collect the $10 fine from his companions.

Bodis Hyer, en route home via the brake beams, failed to stop when Night Officer Carter ordered him to, but one shot from the officer's gun was enough to stop the fleeing Hyer. Judge Crane gave him ten days for evading railroad fare, and Hyer won't get back to Oklahoma as he planned.

Among those from out-of-town who spent Wednesday in Upland attending the consecration service at St. Mark's Church were: Mr. and Mrs. James M. Webster, Alhambra; Rev. H. Parko, Massachusetts; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Mann, Rev. and Mrs. G. Kelley and Chaplain and Mrs. Matthews, all of San Pedro; Mr. and Mrs. C. Huey, of Los Angeles; Mrs. J. B. Dixon, of Compton; Rev. C. Smith. Mr. Hemlett, of Los Angeles, has been secured to take Mr. Hall's place during his vacation, and he will assume his new duties tomorrow.

There will be a food sale tomorrow afternoon at Johnson & Brown's grocery store by the Young Women's Bible Class of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Harold Stickney is in charge and reports that there will be a delicious array of cooked foods ready at two o'clock.

Mrs. J. H. Bachman of San Bernardino was the house guest of her sister, Mrs. I. J. Linkey, for a couple of days this week, and on Wednesday Mrs. Linkey entertained at luncheon honoring, beside her sister, Mrs. Bert Todd of Long Beach, Mrs. Robert Spencer of Ontario, and Mrs. Herbert C. Naylor of this city.

Erwin Benson was host to some forty friends last Wednesday evening, mostly members of his class of the Nazarene Church, the guest of honor being Miss Ruth Byer, a returned missionary from India, who entertained everyone with an exhibit of many curious articles brought from that land and of which she had interesting stories to tell regarding each one.

MRS. E. W. HENRY IS VICE PRESIDENT

Mrs. Andrew J. Williams of the First Nazarene Church of Ontario, was elected president of the Woman's Missionary Union, which includes practically all the evangelical churches of Ontario, Upland, Chino, Cucamonga and Etiwanda, at the annual convention of the organization, held yesterday at the First Baptist Church in Ontario.

Other officers elected for the coming year were: Mrs. Everett W. Henry, of Upland, vice-president; Mrs. Ernest W. Thayer, of Upland, treasurer, and Mrs. Grant E. McCarthy, of the First Methodist Church, Ontario, secretary.

Vice-presidents representing all of the churches in the Union will be named later.

The banner for the largest attendance at the convention was awarded at the noon luncheon, which was served in the social rooms of the church, and went to the Mennonite Church of Upland, which had 28 representatives present.

Mrs. Stover, a returned missionary, who has spent 38 years in Portuguese, East Africa, was the speaker of the morning session and told most interestingly of her work there.

Directly following the luncheon, M. J. Davis, a returned missionary from China, presented most entertainingly a splendid Chinese exhibit.

Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, of the Church of All Nations, Los Angeles, was scheduled to appear on the afternoon program, but was unable to be present. In his stead, Miss M. Lindley, in charge of the clinic of that organization, and Miss A. Millard, superintendent of the children's ward, appeared and told much of interest concerning their work.

It was pointed out that in a space of 213 square blocks, 65,000 persons are reached by the missionary work of the Church of All Nations, and that in a space of four blocks in the vicinity of the church, there are 42 different languages spoken.

Representatives of the various churches in the Union presented three-minute reports showing a gratifying amount of good work accomplished during the past year.

Mrs. S. S. Haury of Upland, the retiring president, presided at the convention, which was attended by more than 200 women.

ONE WAY OUT

Marie, seven years old, was being washed, and was uttering her customary protests.

"I wish," she said earnestly, "that I need never have to be washed again."

"I'm afraid," replied her mother, gently, "that as long as you have me to take care of you, you'll have to make up your mind to be washed thoroughly every day."

Marie considered this problem for a moment. Then she faced her mother with determination.

"Very well," she said, "then I shall marry young."—London Answers.

ETIWANDA

The first "Annual" banquet for women only, held Thursday evening at the Etiwanda church basement was one of the most charming social functions the place has ever seen and a success in every particular. The idea originated with the second section of hostesses for the Aid Society, which consists of Mrs. Wm. McClean, Mrs. C. W. Greenlee, Mrs. Charles Donnelly, Mrs. J. K. Spray, Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, Mrs. L. L. Hammersley, Mrs. F. F. Roe, and Mrs. J. K. Austin.

When the announcement was made public and it was found that chicken and ice cream were included in the menu and that Miss Clara Bissell of Chaffey would be the speaker nothing but severe illness kept anyone eligible from going. The dining room was beautifully decorated with large floral pieces and the tables were exceptionally attractive with a beautiful corsage at each place. Because of the kind thoughtfulness of Mrs. C. W. Greenlee, who had the flowers in charge, the various shut-ins of the community each had one of these pretty bouquets before the hour of the banquet arrived.

The banquet was served by the committees with Messrs. Wm. McClean, Howard Forst, Gerald Cour and Melvin Stevens as waiters. Miss Bissell was introduced by Mrs. C. W. Greenlee and spoke at some length about her experiences in Turkey. Everyone enjoyed all that Miss Bissell had to say and regretted that the talk ended as soon as it did. Mrs. Fred Koch read a poem written by Mrs. C. A. Hiecock, sr., thanking the ladies of the community for their help in making the golden wedding celebration of last month such a success. In saying goodnight to the committee practically everyone voiced the hope that another annual event had been launched and said they hoped never to miss such an occasion in the future. The committee turned something over forty dollars into the Aid treasury as the net cash proceeds of the evening.

A dinner in the same place on Monday evening takes second place to the banquet for the women only in point of date. One of the very happiest dinner parties ever given in Etiwanda was that which honored Mr. L. H. Tilden's eighty-second anniversary. Places were laid for eighty-two people but that number did not suffice and those who came a little late ate with the ladies who were waiting on the tables. As family after family drove up with well filled baskets the tables were loaded with viands as well as crowded with guests. Among the truly remarkable array of foods brought eight birthday cakes were in evidence. The two prettiest ones, made by Mrs. Clara Tilden and Mrs. Wm. McClean were placed on the table at which Mr. Tilden was seated. Abundant servings of ice cream finished the meal in a holiday manner.

Rev. C. W. Greenlee presented the honor guest, in behalf of the community, a large box which he said was a pair of shoes. Mr. Tilden was asked not to open the package until he reached home. Those having inside information said that the shoe box contained a box of the fifty finest cigars the local market afforded. Mr. Tilden thanked his friends and said though he knew he had friends here he did not realize he had so many. Following the dinner a very lively contest was arranged by Mrs. John Scott.

A film, "Pilgrims' Progress," secured through the State University will be given next Sunday evening at seven o'clock at the Etiwanda church. Everyone is cordially invited to come and it is sincerely hoped that all of the younger members of the community may be out at that time.

ENJOY THE WOODS BUT SAVE THE TREES

President Harding, in proclaiming Forest Protection Week, April 22-28, states that forest fires are largely the result of carelessness or thoughtlessness. The truth of this statement was borne out in California last summer when over 85 per cent of the forest, brush and grass fires which burned over more than 650,000 acres of land, were man caused.

Brother Californian, isn't it true that the call of the outdoors is the call of the Trees. Horses couldn't drag you to a hunting trip in a treeless wilderness; a fishing trip by a treeless lake; or a camping trip in a treeless valley.

Last summer hundreds of campers in the forest of California struck an unfair blow at the rights and privileges of fellow campers and fellow sportsmen by starting disastrous forest fires through carelessness or thoughtlessness.

Hundreds of campers failed to extinguish their camp fires and cigarettes, and by their careless personal acts killed the pleasure of camping, fishing and hunting over many square miles for years to come.

Don't be a kill-joy. The fellow who follows after you will enjoy your precautions or suffer because of your carelessness.

Today's camp fires may cover a township of timber by tomorrow. Take a few decent precautions.

Enjoy the woods. There is nothing in them to fear except fire, and fires seldom occur unless you start them. All big fires start as little ones. A minute's care may save a century of waiting for the forest to come back.

Brother Californian, be a good citizen and put out your camp fire, cigarettes and matches when in the woods.

POMONA COLLEGE GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Pomona College Glee Club, acclaimed as one of the leading male choruses of the country, will appear in its annual home concert on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week at Bridges Hall, in Claremont.

The men have recently returned from a two weeks' tour of the state. The trip took them to San Francisco by way of the valley route, and the return was made over the coast highway. A total of twenty concerts was given on this trip. The organization received on all occasions an enthusiastic reception, and the untrained auditor and the music critic were unanimous in their praise of the quality of work done.

One of the greatest hits made on the trip was made by Truman Douglas and Nathan Wilson, violinist and pianist, who gave some of their original songs. Through their efforts and with the help of other talented writers of the club, the organization is enabled to offer an entirely novel and original feature. It is to take the form of a skit which comprises original lyrics and melodies.

GAS RESEARCH COUNCIL FORMED

For the purpose of organizing a permanent committee which will co-ordinate the research activities of all gas utilities in California into a concerted effort to study, investigate and determine ways and means for the improvement and advancement of the science of gas manufacture, distribution, and utilization, representatives of the State Railroad Commission and the leading gas utilities of California have formed what is known as the California Gas Research Council.

Prominent figures in the gas fraternity of California met recently in the offices of the Railroad Commission in Los Angeles where the organization of the California Gas Research Council took place. Harry L. Masser, gas engineer of the Railroad Commission, was elected chairman of the new body. In the future research work he will represent the State Railroad Commission. L. M. Klauer, general superintendent of the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company, was elected secretary-treasurer. Other gas men present were as follows: A. B. Day, general superintendent of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation; J. E. Kelley, representing the Western States Gas and Electric Company of Stockton; F. J. Schaffer, general manager of the Southern California Gas Company; F. S. Wade, superintendent of Operation, Southern Counties Gas Company of California and President of the Pacific Coast Gas Association; W. S. Yard, Pacific Gas and Electric Company and William Moeller, Midway Gas Company.

The object of organizing the California Gas Research Council, declared Wade, who represents the local gas company, "is to study the various problems confronting the individual gas utilities of the state. More than two years ago what was known as the Joint Committee of the Railroad Commission conducted a series of tests with the view of determining the proper heating standard of the gas served in this state. These tests were made with the ultimate thought of giving the consumer the best possible gas at the lowest price.

According to Chairman Masser it is anticipated that memberships in the Gas Research Council will be extended to certain other qualified gas engineers representing small companies in the state or to other persons actively engaged in the gas industry.

Masser explained that the Gas Research Council will assign to various member companies specific problems for investigation, the results of which, it is believed, will contribute toward the improvement of the efficiency of gas usage and therefore result materially to the public benefit.

"The companies involved in this work," Masser said, "have agreed to support the plan for a definite period of time, contributing toward the expenses in proportion to the earnings of the company. In this way," Masser concluded, "no additional burden is placed upon the State Commission."

Superintendent Wade, representing the local gas company, declared that plans are now under way for the improvement of a specially qualified gas engineer of recognized national ability who will be placed directly in charge of the experimental work for the Gas Research Council in the capacity of executive engineer. He will visit, according to Wade, the various districts of each individual gas company where he will make a study of specific problems.

California Leads in Fruit Production

In 1922, $194,810,000 worth of fruit was produced in California. Of the total amount grown, 100,300 carloads of fruit were shipped out of the State last year. The fruit industry is a staple and profitable business and merits the attention of careful investors.

$3,800,000 First Mortgage 6½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

At the time the company was incorporated in 1887, it was a marketing concern, but in the last decade it has expanded to include practically all the co-ordinated lines of the fruit business. Extensive facilities for fruit packing and warehousing provide for the company's properties as well as for the independent growers under contract. The real estate and other property covered by the mortgage is appraised at $7,824,471.71. Annual earnings over the past five years have averaged 3½ times the interest requirements on these bonds.

Unique Conference

Ontario is to furnish the setting for a unique event Sunday when some 200 delegates from all over Southern California will motor to this city before breakfast for choral mass and corporal communion at Christ Episcopal church at 8:30 a. m., as a prelude to the annual spring conference of the Young People's Fellowship of the Episcopal church of the diocese of Los Angeles, according to announcement today of Major A. J. B. Milne, president of the fellowship organization in the local church. The Rev. Neal Dodd, rector of the church of St. Mary of the Angels, Hollywood, will be the celebrant of the mass.

Despite the distance, there will be representatives at the early mass from Santa Barbara and San Diego as well as from many other cities throughout the Southland. The mass is to be followed by breakfast at the Hotpoint Club, at which the members of the Christ Church Fellowship will be hosts.

Another novel feature in connection with the event is the fact that the conference which is to follow the breakfast, is to be staged in the open. Immediately following breakfast, the delegates will motor to Eva's canyon, near the mouth of San Antonio canyon and the meeting which is for the purpose of planning the year's activities of the Fellowship of the diocese will be held in a eucalyptus grove in the mountain setting.

There will be addresses by the Rev. Charles B. Scovil, secretary of the Board of Religious Education of the diocese of Los Angeles, on "Devotional Life of the Fellowship;" by Fenton Barrett of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Long Beach, president of the Diocesan Fellowship, on "What can the Young People do in the Parish;" and by Mrs. Edward W. Carroll of Hollywood, diocesan secretary, on "What the Fellowship Can Do in the Diocese." The addresses will be followed by a general discussion. A picnic lunch is to be a feature of the event.

Talks On Telegraph

Progress of civilization, particularly along the line of telegraphic communication, since 1844 when Morse gave the telegraph to the world, was outlined in interesting fashion Tuesday afternoon by C. F. Newson, division commercial manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in an address before members of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce in weekly forum luncheon at the Hotpoint club.

Mr. Newson recited how the receipts for the first day of the first telegraphic line ever operated in the United States were just one cent, while at present the annual receipts of the Western Union Company are in excess of $125,000,000.

The speaker declared that his company has over a million and a half miles of telegraph wires and handles 85 per cent of the telegraphic business in the United States. There are 26,000 stockholders in the Western Union, of which 18,000 hold only 25 shares or less. The company also owns seven trans-Atlantic cables, totaling 26,000 miles and is in connection with 300,000 miles of other companies' wires the world over.

Mr. Newson dwelt on the importance of the telegraph in the development of increased business between the United States and South America, which he declared would be facilitated by a new cable recently laid from Florida to the Barbadoes, connecting with Buenos Ayres, and by another cable which it is proposed to lay to the west coast of the southern continent shortly.

The speaker declared that despite the great development along the line of wireless, the use of cables for overseas communication would continue, due to the uncertainty of atmospheric conditions, which at times hampers satisfactory wireless transmission, and due to the lack of privacy in such communication.

In closing, the speaker declared that no country in the world has made as great progress along telegraphic lines as the United States and urged upon his hearers the value of the telegraph in business.

J. A. Gordon, Ontario Western Union Manager, was chairman of the meeting, and C. Vanderbilt, district commercial superintendent of the company, spoke briefly.

Small Boy Injured

Billy Parks, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Parks, was confined to his bed at his home, 764 East A street, today, suffering from concussion of the brain as the result of a fall from a slide on the playgrounds at the Central Grammar School.

The injured lad was rushed to his home by principal Byron Huxtable and Charles Latimer, failed to regain consciousness for several hours after the mishap.

Dr. R. C. Nichols, who was called to attend the boy, stated today, however, that conditions were favorable for his early recovery.

CUCAMONGA

Cucamonga Woman's Club Enjoy Social Meeting

Cucamonga Woman's Club spent a very delightful afternoon at the regular Thursday session, as guests of Mrs. Robert Nesbit, Mrs. Chas. Bauer and Mrs. L. N. Pierce, at the home of the former, Archibald Avenue and Church Street. Lovely pink roses, snowballs and nasturtiums in vases about the living-rooms furnished an attractive spring-like setting. No special program had been arranged for the afternoon, aside from an animated round of Current Event topics, which covered a wide and interesting range of subjects, the "Community Property Law," Forest Fire Prevention Week, Indian Melodies, School Election, China, Recognition of Mexico, with Mrs. G. P. McConkle giving an article on English poetry as composed by native lads of twelve years of age, giving several charming little verses as examples, and Mrs. A. C. Beattie relating a trip to a delicious demonstration by Prof. Welden, explaining the whys and wherefores for and against thinning of apricots, all of which proved of exceeding interest and quite apropos at this season of the year. Mrs. J. C. Powellson read two enjoyable poems, "The Mountains for a Friend" and "Vespers."

During the business session, the annual election of officers was held, resulting in the re-election of the 1922-23 officers to serve again for the ensuing year of 1923-24: Mrs. J. H. Williams, president; Mrs. Mary J. Reid, vice-president; Mrs. Ray Ford, recording secretary; Mrs. B. H. Wilson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. S. Bishop, treasurer.

The annual club picnic was again changed by motion to the first Saturday in June, to be held at Sycamore Grove Park in Los Angeles, followed by a visit to the Southwest Museum.

By resolution, expressions of sympathy were extended by the Cucamonga Woman's Club to a former faithful and active club-member of many years' standing, Mrs. W. A. Lucas, of Los Angeles, who has been so recently bereaved.

The announcement by the president, Mrs. Williams, that the speaker for the next meeting would in all probability be Mrs. Brackett, well-known historian and speaker of Pomona, was greeted with enthusiasm. Mrs. Brackett to talk on the ever-alluring subject: "History and Old Land Marks" of the Cucamonga Valley. Each member was also instructed to be prepared with a "Current Event." The place of the next meeting will be announced elsewhere. The meeting then adjourned for a pleasant social hour, during which the hostesses served tempting refreshments of salad, wafers, tea and home-made cakes.

"The Store That Saves You Money"

The farmer's mule had balked in the road when the country doctor came by. The farmer asked the physician if he could give him something to start the mule. The doctor said he could and reaching down into his medicine case, gave the animal some powders. The mule switched his tail, shook his head and started on a mad gallop down the road. The farmer looked first at the flying animal and then at the doctor.

"How much did that medicine cost, Doc?" he asked.

"Oh, about fifteen cents," said the physician.

"Well, give me a quarter's worth, quick, I've got to catch that mule."
